Continuation of 11. does NOT place the application in condition for allowance because: Regarding argument neither CHIM nor Kuznetson et al. describe/suggest storing a plurality of protection policy descriptors in a resource protection list, wherein each of the protection policy descriptors is indicative of a protection policy for its one of the memory ranges, as recited in claim 1, remark page 11-14 section III, argument is not persuasive because sections 7.2, and 7.2.1-7.2.2.2.3 of discloses a security properties of a platform protection profile (section 1.3.1) and an ACPI table usage and post-boot OS accessing/reading data of ACPI that is stored in a pre-boot environment and instantiation of event log array structures comprising hash within validation certificate for validation, CHIM, and PCR register usage that define PCR assignments used for boot time integrity metrics and methodology for collecting the metrics (section 2.2). Kuznetsov et al. discloses assigning each of the plurality of descriptors to a respective one of a plurality of memory ranges during the pre-book environment, wherein each of the descriptors is indicative of a corresponding protection policy for its one of the memory ranges (see col. 6 lines 20-68, and col. 9 lines 3-col. 10 lines 67), and moreover Kuznetsov discloses a computer security system comprising defined software access privilege (col. 16 lines 39-41; descriptor) in a passive operating mode (col. 17 lines 25-29; pre-boot) that is associated with access rights, comprising software privilege of changing files and privilege of writing, (col. 17 lines 10-19; software protection policy) using protection program support module (fig. 8 element 120B). Sufficient motivation to combine is provided in the office action
